Oracle's JD Edwards Homebuilder Solution Wins "TechHome Builder High Impact Product of the Year" Award

REDWOOD SHORES, Calif. 20-MAY-2005 Oracle (NASDAQ: ORCL) today announced that Oracle's JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Homebuilder Management, designed and developed by The MASYC Group, Inc. has won the "2004 TechHome Builder High Impact Product of the Year" Award. TechHome Builder, a publication that links builders and technology, held its annual awards event today at the TechHome Builder Conference & Expo (TBX) in Phoenix, Arizona.

"Our readers--leaders in the homebuilding industry--selected JD Edwards Homebuilder Management as a winner based on the product's great impact on streamlining business operations," said Jason Knott, editor, TechHome Builder.

"The TechHome Builder award recognizes the strength of the Oracle family of solutions, which includes Oracle, PeopleSoft and JD Edwards products," said Ellen Minter, vice president of industry strategy and marketing, Oracle. "Offering homebuilders more information-technology choices that deliver maximum return on investment has been key for Oracle. As a result, 8 of the top 10 'Americas Most Admired' homebuilding companies run Oracle applications."

Oracle's solutions for the homebuilding industry enable companies to improve their customers' total homeownership experience; leverage volume buying power; select and control subcontractors and vendors; manage profitability by the lot, subdivision and model; deliver prompt warranty service while maintaining supplier accountability and streamline back-office and support operations.
